Dear Friends,

It seems our prayer request in our last report concerning “open doors” and “adversaries” was somewhat prophetic (1 Cor. 16:9). Our greatest adversary, the devil (1 Pet. 5:8), devoured one of our most accommodating and cooperative chaplains, who through familiarity and rum-drum routine let his vigilance slip, and a great open door along with it. Thankfully, another two let us back in after almost three years, with others to follow soon.

I was released from prison in 1972. The state of Florida paid my tuition, bought all my books, and gave me $50 per month to finish my college degree at U.W.F. in Pensacola. Who but the Lord would have ever known I would finish my home stretch in the same place, preaching the gospel to the “home boys” (Ezk. 3:15).

Thank you so much for allowing me to do so (1 Thess. 2:4).

INMATE TESTIMONIES:

By Faith

I'm part-time Bible study leader in our prison church. Your depth of meaning in your literature has blessed not only my growing in the grace and knowledge (2 Pet. 3:18) of the Word, but has given me rich fuel for our study, especially "Iniquity, Sin & Transgression". Thank you, I pray for your ministry.

-Denver H.

Thank you again for your ministry's visits, life and dedication. It means a lot to a lot of us, even if it only seems to be just a few of us. Sir, we lift you up in prayer and ask you do the same in Christ Jesus, covered in the blood, Amen.

-Heather D.

Basic Training for Christian Soldiers

I think this study is the best one I've read. I had let others read it also, and they too will be writing to begin. Thank you so much! And please keep this camp in your prayers. I have never been around such violence in my life. Until next time, God bless.

CALHOUN CO. JAIL TESTIMONY:

Dear motivational preachers,

I enjoy your coming and giving me hope. I cried tears of conviction, and I cried tears of joy and pleasantness. I know the Lord through Jesus Christ will be with me and guide me in the right direction, as He is right now. Please keep me in your prayers. Everything you said and taught us was the absolute, holy truth. I look forward to my new book you are sending me. Love ya'll, and bless ya'll sincerely.
